

TD Community Resilience Initiative

As part of the TD Ready Commitment platform, TD will allocate $25 million to help strengthen community resilience today and into the future. This comprehensive program includes funding, employee engagement and on-going collaboration with organizations and community groups that operate locally, regionally and nationally in Canada and the United States across TD's operating footprint. This includes:

- Existing TD-supported community organizations to fund immediate, short-term needs and help save not-for-profit jobs at risk due to funding shortfalls
- A redirection of funds to regional community banking offices for a more local response to regional COVID-19 impacts in Canada and in the U.S.
- Donation to the United Way Local Love Fund to help fill gaps created by the increased and changing demand for services created by the COVID-19 pandemic
- Community initiatives that help support healthcare workers, including $1 million to The Frontline Fund to assist Canadian frontline healthcare workers with supplies, support and research funding to fight COVID-19; and $1 million to the Canadian Association of Community Health Centres and the U.S.-based National Association of Community Health Centers to support their work with society's most vulnerable citizens.

Ongoing Support for Mental Health Services:

Mental health services have seen a significant increase in the number of people reaching out for support since the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic. In light of the tragic events in Nova Scotia in April, and to support immediate and long term mental health services, TD has donated $100,000 to the Strongest Families

TD is also working with the Toronto-based Centre for Addiction and Mental Health \(CAMH\) to share information on mental wellness and the relationship between financial and mental well-being. More information can be found in the article in the TD Newsroom.
